

SNYDER RESCUED FROM MINE AT NOON

HELD PRISONER IN DEBRIS AT CROFT
MINE 45 HOURS

HALF CRAZED FROM EXPERIENCE, MINER RESISTS RESCUERS

PULLED THROUGH HOLE BY A ROPE; TAKEN TO HOSPITAL FOR TREATMENT

Half crazed from his 45 hours of imprisonment among earth and stone, Gus Snyder, Crosby miner, who was trapped in a drift cave-in at the Croft mine on the 366-foot level Tuesday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock, was rescued at 11:40 A. M. today.

At times the man resisted his rescuers, shouting "leave me alone," while at intervals he would quieten and assist the men who had worked so hard and courageously to save him.

At 10:30 A. M. today one of the rescue party crawled into the narrow passageway leading to the drift blockade and slipped a rope into the prison of debris.

"Here, take this rope and tie it around you," he shouted to Snyder.

Snyder did as he was requested and was pulled slowly into the small opening. Half way to safety he tugged at the rope and demanded that he be left alone. His rescuers were forced to pull him through the aperture and hold him from running down the drift to the shaft.

The rescued miner was taken from the mine and rushed by ambulance to the Miners' hospital where he is under medical care and treatment.

Medical authorities expect Snyder to totally recover from his experience. The severe shock he experienced temporarily unbalanced his mind, but he will recover after he has rested and taken food, it was said.

X-ray examinations are to be made of Snyder to determine if he suffered any injuries.

All through last night the 40 miners continued digging to reach their fellow employee. They shouted words of encouragement to him. At midnight a stimulant was passed through the opening to Snyder. He also smoked a cigarette.

Throughout the range towns today citizens were praising the work of the rescue party. Company officials added also their words of praise.

"The company greatly appreciates the work of the miners who assisted in the rescue work of one of their comrades," Superintendent F. A. Kelley said today.

"Thank God my husband is safe," Mrs. Snyder said. She had rushed to her husband and embraced him as he was taken from the mine. She accompanied him to the hospital where she will remain by his side. The six children of the Snyder family each uttered prayers for the saving of their father.

POSITIVELY NOT THE MAN WHO ESCAPED FROM STATE IN-SANE ASYLUM

FIVE MEN HELD ON CHARGE OF MURDERING "ORIGINAL"
FRANKLIN

Mountain View, Ark., Dec. 12.—(U.P.)—The man who says he is Connie Franklin may or may not be the illiterate beau that five men are charged with murdering, but he positively is not the Franklin who escaped two years ago from the state insane asylum, it was revealed today.

While this small town quieted down after trying to figure out the strange case of whether Franklin was burned alive or is still alive, records from the asylum were sent here by the United Press and showed the Franklin held here and the Franklin who was an inmate are different persons.

Tiller Ruminer's beau, whom she claims was burned alive by the five defendants one night nine months ago, assertedly had been confined in the state hospital at one time, later escaping.

The "Franklin" here and whom the five men held claim was Tiller's sweetheart, is three inches under the height of the asylum inmate, has different color hair and eyes and a scar. Hugh Williams, prosecuting attorney for the first time today was outspoken in his opinion of Franklin, calling him "an imposter and defense hoax."

INVESTIGATING
AT ROCKFORD, ILL.

FULSOME LIFE OF VICTIM, AN AT-RACTIVE LANGUAGE TEACH-ER, IS PROBED

CLUES RAIN IN ON INVESTIGAT-
ORS OF DEATH OF CORDELIA
E. GUMMERSHEIMER

Rockford, Ill., Dec. 12.—(U.P.)—A New York radio operator and a Chicago business man were added today to the long list of those whose played some part in the fulsome life of Miss Cordelia E. Gummersheimer, 35, attractive language teacher who was clubbed to death.

Clues rained in on investigators after efforts to pierce the maze of mystery had proved fruitless since her body, clad in a nightgown, was found sprawled across the bed in her one-room apartment last Sunday. A bloody length of gas pipe was on the floor.

Her death cut short a romance with Roy Scribner, radio operator employed by the Mackay Radio Company, New York, a married man and father, the authorities revealed today.

They said Scribner had met the pretty teacher in Chicago on Nov. 22 and had accompanied her here the next day. Tenants in the apartment building where she lived said he had spent the night in her apartment.

Two close friends of Miss Gummersheimer who visited her soon after Scribner left said they found her sobbing.

"Oh, I'm so afraid," Miss Gummersheimer is said to have exclaimed. "His wife is insanely jealous and is suspicious of him. He told me never to write to him again. He told me his wife got hold of one of my letters and was furious. I wonder if she had detectives shadowing us."

The friends, one of whom was Miss Maude Weinsheik, English teacher at the Rockford high school where Miss Gummersheimer was head of the languages department, said the latter revealed Scribner proposed divorcing his wife so he could marry Miss Gummersheimer.

The other new name added to the lengthening list of men Cordelia Gummersheimer had known well enough to correspond with was that of Ralph B. Howe, manager of the W. W. Barnard Seed Company in Chicago. A letter from him was found among her effects.

State's Attorney William D. Knight refused to reveal the contents of the letter but said he did not regard Howe in the light of a suspect because of anything it contained.

Meantime another development that Knight said might change the aspect of the case was the indication the murder was not committed until about 8 o'clock Sunday morning. Previously it had been believed it was committed shortly after the preceding midnight.

Possibility that the eccentric dentist, Dr. Floyd D. Peach, arrested as a suspect and then freed when he gave a satisfactory explanation of his whereabouts at the time the crime was first believed to have occurred, might be brought back into the investigation was suggested by authorities.

An inexplorable character, save in the light of mental aberration, the dentist had a mania for collecting dead animals and making articles of their skins. His suspicious actions, his bizarre manner of life, a hermit in a shack with dogs as his only companions, strengthened the belief he might have been the slayer.

Walter Rowe, janitor of the apartment building, declared Miss Gummersheimer was asleep and had not been clubbed at 8 o'clock Sunday morning when he glanced in at her window from a rear porch.

Harry Nettinger, another tenant, said he had noticed a stranger, a dark man with his hat pulled down over his eyes, muttering and dodging about in the hall about noon last Sunday. That renewed interest in the whereabouts of Nicolai Diaz Martinez, Cuban admirer, whom Miss Gummersheimer had told a pupil she expected in town on Saturday, the day before her body was discovered.

Governor's Wife Declares Scores of Indians

APPALLING CONDITION REVEALED BY RECENT LETTERS FROM DISTRICT

INFLUENZA AND TYPHOID HAVE BROKEN OUT IN THE SETTLEMENT

St. Paul, Dec. 12.—(U.P.)—Declaring that scores of Minnesota Indians in the Cass Lake region are suffering from starvation and unattended sickness, Mrs. Theodore Christianson today issued a plea for contributions of food and clothing to be distributed among them.

The governor's wife declared she had learned of the appalling conditions in letters from residents of the northern Minnesota Indian territory in the past week.

Influenza and typhoid have broken out in the settlements, she said, because of under nourishment and lack of shelter or clothing. She revealed letters in which Indian families were said to have existed for weeks on small quantities of smoked fish, black tea and rutabagas.

Mrs. Christianson requested that women's organizations make cash donations with which food and clothing can be purchased to supply the Indians until federal aid can be obtained. She said the Maplewood club, of which she is a member, already has started an aid fund.

The letters received by the governor's wife told of one family in which the grandmother was crippled with rheumatism, the father incapacitated by typhoid and the wife and two children suffering from influenza. The family had little food and no fuel or clean clothing.

The first lady of the state asked that all donations of cash, clothing and food be sent to the state capital from where it will be shipped to the afflicted districts.

NATIONALISTS ARE FACING THE REBEL OFFENSIVES IN 4 SECTORS

By RANDALL GOULD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Shanghai, Dec. 12.—The nationalist armies of General Chiang Kai-shek, facing rebel offensives in four sectors of China, struck a decisive blow at the revolutionary armies surrounding Canton today, repulsing the invading Kwangsi rebels and the "Ironside" divisions of General Chang Fa-Kwei.

With the situation at the nationalist capital in Nanking eased somewhat after rebel drives to the north and southeast of the city, attention was centered to the south, where for weeks the revolutionary armies have striven to take the important city of Canton.

Reports from Hong Kong and Nanking indicating the fighting had been severe and had lasted 24 hours, ending in victory for the defenders, the nationalist Cantonese troops.

Casualties were reported to be very heavy, with rebel losses predominant. One entire brigade was reported destroyed, many rebels captured and thousands disarmed.

The nationalist victory was seen as an important one here, for the armies of Chang Fa-Kwei and the Kwangsi troops have been a troublesome menace to the nationalist government for several weeks.

There was a noticeable slackening of tension in this city and in the nationalist capital which yesterday was threatened by rebel activities north-east of Wuchow and southeast, north of Lake Tai-Hu, between Nanking and Shanghai.

Trains on the Nanking-Shanghai lines were operating and although small groups of foreign residents still arrived here from Nanking there appeared to be no general exodus from the capital. It was estimated the evacuation did not total more than 150 in the last two days.

Reports from Nanking denied that there were serious clashes north of the city on the Tientsin-Pukow railway.

Commanders of Japanese, British and American warships which have converged here since the situation became threatening last week showed no alarm and had not made any move up the river to Nanking. Admiral Charles MacVay, Jr., head of the United States Asiatic fleet, who left Manila with the cruiser Pittsburgh and six destroyers, is due here Saturday on the flagship, the Pittsburgh.

Ice-glazed highways contributed to scores of automobile accidents and several persons were injured in Minneapolis and St. Paul by falls on icy sidewalks.

A heavy fog hung over Minnesota, parts of Wisconsin and Iowa today and combined with the sleet to hold up airplane travel. Several scheduled flights were postponed late Wednesday.

Temperatures of slightly below freezing were reported throughout the state and the weather forecast called for colder with probable snow.

We started our fall work with a farewell party for Jane Clark, which was held at Mrs. Shirley Rhodes home in August.

After that we progressed busily, collecting and selling old books, magazines, and papers, and having food and candy sales. We also found time to squeeze in some handiwork.

We did some community work, such as selling forget-me-nots, and on November 11, serving at the Legion banquet.

Jane Clark was present at a masquerade Halloween party held at the home of Betty Mahlum. Another party was at Frances Peterson's home on December 6.

Betty Mahlum and Barbara Zapffe took us across the river for supper on October 25, and small pieces of paper, "planted" by Helen Stout and our guardian, led us on a wild treasure hunt to cover the north side of town on November 16.

MUSICAL CLUB LUNCHEON DEC. 14

To be Held at 1 P. M. at Ransford Hotel, Local Reservations Must be Made by 11 A. M.

LARGE ATTENDANCE EXPECTED
At 3 P. M. Prof. I. M. Cochran Gives Interpretation of Shakespeare at Elks Temple

The series of luncheons to be given by the Brainerd Musical club for local and out of town members on club meeting days will be inaugurated this Saturday at the Ransford hotel. The hour is 1 o'clock and reservations of Brainerd members must be made by 11 o'clock.

The Christmas seals will be on sale before and after the meeting for all desiring them.

Prof. I. M. Cochran, an exceptional interpreter of Shakespeare, who gives his message in forceful and understanding way, will appear on the Musical club program at 3 P. M. at Elks Temple. He comes highly recommended. He has appeared before St. Paul, Minneapolis and other American city audiences and in Europe, fulfilling engagements there on his last trip abroad. He will read "Macbeth."

The Little Falls Daily Transcript pays him this tribute: "In presenting Shakespeare's tragic play, 'Macbeth,' Professor I. M. Cochran, head of the public speaking department of Carleton college, held his audience spellbound at the Mand Moon Weyerhaeuser hall Friday evening when he appeared under the auspices of the literary section of the Musical Art club. Mr. Cochran last year read 'The Man of the Hour' and created such a favorable impression that the attendance was the largest ever present at a literary section program.

"The characters of Macbeth and Lady Macbeth were splendidly interpreted by Professor Cochran, who selected for his reading some of the most dramatic scenes of the play. One of the most vividly enacted scenes was that at the banquet hall after Banquo had been killed and his ghost appeared at the banquet taking Macbeth's seat at the table. So intensely dramatic was the work of Mr. Cochran in reading the scene that the audience was as though in a trance and at one point everyone started as though a shot had been fired. An equally clever piece of acting was his interpretation of the scene where Lady Macbeth walks in her sleep just before killing herself, and the close of the play when Macbeth dies at the hand of McDuff fulfilling the prophecy of the three weird sisters in every detail.

"In presenting 'Macbeth,' Professor Cochran was able to give one a clearer understanding of the Shakespearean work than could be obtained in a study of the tragic story of the man whose wife spurred him on to cruel deeds that he might ascend the throne of Scotland, only to find that honors obtained in such a manner cannot satisfy."

More Motor Vehicles

THERE are more motor vehicles in Minnesota. There has been a gain of over 50,000 at this time, over the figures of the same period for last year.

The total registration up to December 1, 1929, according to figures compiled by Secretary of State Mike Holm, is 726,984, with fees of $10,753,688.65. Last year the registration at this period was 672,724 and the fees collected were $10,066,128.49.

The inevitable result of more cars means more roads and better roads. We fail to see, when, if ever, the saturation point in car purchases will be reached. But we can see saturation points dawning in the use of certain highways.

HOLIDAY travel through the Northwest will be greatly stimulated this year by excursion fares both for long distance and local travel, according to E. E. Nelson, passenger traffic manager of the Northern Pacific railway company. For the first time in six years, these low fares will be available and many persons will avail themselves of the opportunity to enjoy Christmas and New Year's back home.

Pommer Does Best Work With Hungarian Theme

The simple, yet age-old beauty of the harvest season forms the aesthetic basis for the theme of "Hungarian Rhapsody," a Paramount release, which is showing at the Lyceum tonight and Friday.

The picture opens with a "long shot" of a vast wheat field in which hundreds of workers are engaged in mowing the golden shafts into windrows. The plot thereafter revolves about the harvest-festival spirit which engages the principals of the drama and lifts them out of themselves into a new universe of gorgeous, throbbing romance.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

PARAMOUNT IS THEATRE OF ART

Beauty Revealed in All Parts of Building; Patrons Will Not be Disappointed

SEATS BEING PLACED

Spanish Architecture on North Side Blends With English on Opposite Wall

The severest critic will find it difficult to find any fault with the Paramount theatre on its opening, December 21.

The interior architecture surpasses all expectations. It is the work of art and will be acclaimed by all who visit it as such.

While a statement at this time that the theatre will be the most artistic and beautiful of any theatre in the northwest appears somewhat broad, nevertheless patrons will be convinced that such is true.

The theatre has a friendly feeling, one of warmth and coziness because possibly it is not mammoth.

No expense has been spared to make it all that the Public Theatre Corporation intended it to be. It comes as a most welcome Christmas gift to the people of Brainerd and vicinity and without question will be of considerable benefit to this city as a commercial light. Merchants throughout the city will most certainly enjoy benefits through visitors attending the theatre and shopping here.

There is a warmth about the building which attracts one immediately upon entry. Decorators with the touch of artists are completing the wall decorations. Colors blend perfectly. The Gothic architecture is so attractive that its beauty cannot pass by without the viewer exclaiming its praise.

One feels in stepping into the interior that one has entered a remote distant land, beautiful as an artist might paint it. It comes as a peaceful dream. The warmth of the Spanish is revealed in the architecture and decorating on the north wall while the austere, proud beauty of the English fits in perfect contrast on the opposite wall. Overhead the blue sky, moving clouds and twinkling stars quite astonish one in its reality. It is typically an atmospheric theatre.

The work of decorating the interior has been done under the direction of Martin Weinberger of Minneapolis, employed by the contractors, Leibenberg and Karpman.

Mr. Weinberger who has decorated a score of theatres in the northwest cannot refrain from showing his enthusiasm.

"It's the most beautiful theatre in the northwest," he says proudly.

And the seats. The restful feeling of the plush covered backs and cushion seats will be welcomed by patrons. Completion of installation of seats is expected this week.

So technical are the Western Electric motion picture talking machines in the projection rooms that one hesitates to comment but to say that they are of the very latest type and designed to reproduce all talking films as perfect as can be possible.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

December 12, 1914

Last night and this morning was the coldest spell Brainerd has had so far this year and the mercury really danced around the zero mark for several hours. It was four below zero and the weather throughout the day has been frosty. At least ten inches of snow fell at the head of the lakes.

John Cullen who has been with the Brainerd Grocery company for some time left last night for Minneapolis where he has accepted a position with the Interurban Express company. Mrs. J. C. Atherton and little son left yesterday afternoon for Duluth for a week's visit with relatives.

R. J. Tinkelpaugh of Staples is in the city visiting this afternoon. John Conrad met grim misfortune this morning and as a result is losing something like $800 from fire. Shortly before 4 o'clock this morning he came down to the depot to meet his wife who was returning home from Fargo. He built the fire in the stove before leaving the house and locked the door. When at the depot the department was called and it was discovered that the fire was the home of Mr. Conrad. He had left $350 in bills in the house and this also went up in smoke.

Henry Congdon of Oak Lawn was in a hunting accident which nearly cost his life yesterday. He and his brother Merton were hunting rabbits and had separated. Henry went into a thicket and while in a crouching position Merton saw him and thought he was a rabbit. He raised his gun and took deliberate aim. Fortunately the aim was low and some of the shot lodged only in his leg and heel. Had the aim been higher it is thought he would have been instantly killed.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Gruenhagen and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jabe left this afternoon for Merriam Park. They were here to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Jabe.

FIVE RED CROSS CAMPS HOUSE FLOOD REFUGEES

A total of 27,791 persons were maintained by the American Red Cross in camps or in their own homes in the three States of Alabama, Georgia and Florida, following the disastrous floods of early last Spring. Five camps were organized, of which four were in Alabama and one in Florida. Small temporary camps were set up in various places in addition to these, but the persons not sheltered in the five main camps soon were able to return home or to friends and relatives.

Red Cross nurses were at all five camps, assisting the State health authorities in care of the sick and in inoculating against epidemics.

Ten are Killed in Auburn, N. Y. Prison Riot

BLOODIEST PRISON RIOT IN HISTORY OF STATE ENDED

DEATH PENALTY HANGS OVER CONVICT MUTINEERS STILL ALIVE

DESPERATE HAND TO HAND FIGHTING EVENTUALLY STILLED DISORDER

By ALLEN G. CRIST
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Auburn, N. Y., Dec. 12.—The bloodiest prison riot the state of New York ever has known was definitely at an end today, with the death penalty hanging over the convict mutineers who were still alive after the desperate hand-to-hand fighting which put the revolt under control.

The band of criminals who gambled with their life for freedom, and lost, was routed last night when nearly 300 national guardsmen stormed across the prison yard.

Five ringleaders of the rebellion died in that last assault. Another mutineer died later of wounds, bringing the death list to ten, for two other convicts and the head keeper, George A. Durnford, had been killed in the fighting earlier in the day, during the tense moments when the life of Warden Edgar Jennings hung in the balance.

At 9:30 A. M. today conditions were so quiet within the prison that the 425 guardsmen from the 108th infantry were relieved of their duties and ordered to their homes.

A score of guards and convicts were wounded.

The official list of dead:

Principal Keeper Durnford.

Henry Sullivan, convict, serving 21-year sentence.

Perry Johnson, a lifer.

Steve Pawlak, lifer recaptured after escape last summer.

Julius Stefanek, convict.

Alexander Tucholka, convict.

Joseph Braincross, convict, serving 15 years.

Stephen Sporey, convict, serving 15 years.

Ernest Pavesi, convict.

As eye witness accounts of the uprising and the subsequent fighting were assembled today the hopelessness of the attempt to escape became apparent.

It was only for a few minutes while the convicts held Warden Jennings hostage that the break appeared to have the least chance of success. But there was no hesitancy on the part of prison officials, despite a message purporting to be from the warden in which capitulation was urged. Once it was decided that the warden must run his risks and the mutiny be curbed, it was a foregone conclusion that the rebellion would be crushed, although in bloody fashion.

All convicts who took part in the uprising, even in a minor degree, will be charged with first degree murder, it was announced from Albany by Raymond Kieb, commissioner of corrections.

From the scenes of violence which broke with sudden fury in the grayness of a cold winter day, there emerged pictures of individual heroism, self-sacrifice and stern devotion to duty.

One of the heroes was the Rev.

Donald Cleary, assistant pastor of the Holy Family Church here. At the height of the rioting he went to the barricaded cellhouse where 15 convicts had blockaded themselves with Warden Jennings and 12 guards as prisoners, and parleyed with the mutineers.

"I know most of those boys and I knew that if I had a chance to reason with them they would see how their foolish attempt would bring only death and failure," said Father Cleary in an interview with the United Press.

"and I knew they wouldn't fire on me."

"When I got to the door of the cellhouse and started talking to them, however, I could see that they were still full of hope that their desperate attempt would succeed. They were sure, and told me so, that the authorities would be forced to let them out, because they had the warden and those guards there, shackled and helpless. Four or five of them gave some indications of weakening after I had talked to them through the door, but the leaders argued them out of it."

"Apparently they suspected a gas attack was coming, because three or four of them, behind the door, fixed handkerchiefs over their faces."

"I remained at the cellhouse for about ten minutes, telling them that the riot couldn't possibly succeed and urging them to surrender and save any further bloodshed."

"As far as I could determine there were about a dozen men, all of them armed, in the main group of mutineers. I do not believe any others were armed, and the bulk of the prison population was calm and had no part in the riot."

"I saw, however, that argument was useless. They told me they had already killed the head keeper, and that their only chance was to go on with their program, holding the warden and guards until they got action on their demand for release."

The mutiny started when 15 of the ringleaders, using smuggled guns and ammunition, surrounded eight guards in one of the prison halls and disarmed them. Principal Keeper Durnford was shot in the early stages of the mutiny. Warden Jennings was captured when he went to remonstrate with the convicts.

Acting Governor Herbert Lehman, notified at Albany of the convicts' threats to kill the warden, dictated a terse ultimatum:

"Tell them to go to hell, there will be no compromise with them."

Tear and gas bombs were brought in from the outside, national guardsmen, policemen and firemen recruited from nearby cities, and machine guns stationed—then the order to charge, the first of the successful assaults, was given.

A shower of tear bombs was thrown through the barred windows of the cellhouse. The convicts responded with revolver fire. Overwhelmed by numbers, however, the mutineers retreated to the west and south cellhouses, abandoning their hostages.

Desultory firing continued during the afternoon. Then at sundown a final assault routed the convicts.

Massed before the prison gates where they had been stationed to prevent any wholesale delivery were 850 national guardsmen. As the gates swung open, 300 of them charged across the prison yard. Supported by a barrage of steel from machine guns, they swarmed to the attack with orders to shoot to kill.

Five convicts were killed in that last assault. The convicts returned the fire of the militia until they were shot down or left helpless by wounds.

LEGISLATIVE PROGRESS IN HOUSE, SENATE

SENATE COMPLETES CONTROVERSIAL SECTION OF WOOL SCHEDULE

HOUSE ADOPTED ADMINISTRATION TAX SCHEDULE IN A DAY

Washington, Dec. 12.—(U.P.)—Legislative progress rapid in the house, slow in the senate, was recorded by congress today.

The senate had completed the most controversial section of the wool schedule after nearly a week of debate, and planned to take up the tariff bill again today. It will be laid aside tomorrow for the $160,000,000 administration tax reduction resolution, which leaders hope to pass at once.

The house, having adopted the tax reduction in a single day, took up at French debt settlement in expectation of ratifying it in similar short time.

The first appropriation bill, carrying more than $283,000,000 for the interior department, was passed by the house yesterday and is to be sent to the senate today. This and other house measures will be held up in the senate, probably until after Christmas, to give added time for tariff consideration.

The senate's tax problem, already complicated by proposals to make it apply to 1930 corporation incomes instead of 1929 was added to further by an amendment by Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, which would reduce from 12½ to 10 per cent the federal tax on capital gains. This would be effective starting on 1930 gains and losses. The one per cent cut on individual normal taxes and corporation taxes, provided in the resolution as passed, would be effective only in 1929 incomes, however.

Couzens' amendment is understood to be aimed at Wall Street criticisms of the tax, which attributed it to be one of the reasons why owners of securities held their stocks so long despite the condition of the market. Treasury officials feel, however, that this tax had little to do with the stock decline.

Three senate investigations also went on today. A special cotton investigating sub-committee, with Townsend, republican, Delaware, as chairman, and Smith, democrat, South Carolina, and Heflin, democrat, Alabama, prepared to hear presidents of New York and New Orleans cotton exchanges on questions involving the price of cotton.

Committee of Five Named by Chamber Head Empowered to Act

FINANCE PROBLEM CONSIDERED

Popular Subscription May be Asked of Citizens This Season

The Chamber of Commerce last evening voted to sponsor a public skating rink in the city this winter with the cooperation of the people of Brainerd.

The consensus of the meeting was that a city the size of Brainerd should not be without a public skating rink and that such should be maintained yearly without the necessity of entering into the phase of finance each winter. It was the popular sentiment that the maintenance of rinks for the public should be a city proposition to be included in the tax levy. They felt that although merchants and citizens were not adverse to contributing towards the upkeep of a public rink the same was a matter which benefited the city at large and could very satisfactorily be conducted on that basis.

President C. A. Ryan was instructed to appoint a committee of five with power to act in the securing of a public rink. He named the following as members of that committee: James M. Owen, chairman, Frank G. Hall, Carl Wright, D. H. Fullerton and George Berkholder.

The site behind the court house was favored over the municipal field at the fill, the condition of the ground of the latter, it was said, was not favorable for a rink.

Details for the raising of money, location and construction of the rink and the building of a warming house at the grounds, were left in the hands of the committee.

The situation of the rink behind the court house was considered as feasible as any in the city because of its central location.

A popular subscription campaign will be considered to meet expenses. The city council will also be approached for assistance and it is hoped that by next year arrangements can be made whereby the rink might be placed on a city maintenance basis.

The city water and light board will be appealed to for water and light.

The committee will start work on the project immediately in the hope of having the rink in condition by New Year's Day at the latest.

CHAPTER XXXI.

It was Stefano who fired the shots which Nathalie heard as she turned at the gate and headed the yellow roadster for Brookville.

From the position in which he sat facing Niccolo, it was possible for him to be aware of any person at the door or on the stairs or in the hall without relaxing his watch on Niccolo.

As Stefano understood Ferris's plan in respect to Nathalie, all Ferris wanted of her was to have her sell him the fire. If she refused to sell, Ferris, beaten, could do nothing but go away. He could not understand at all why Niccolo had been placed on guard over him. He asked him finally, speaking in Italian as before:

"Niccolo," he said, "why are we sojourning here indoors on so pleasant a day?"

Niccolo shrugged his shoulders. "Niccolo," said Stefano, "observe that each of my hands is still in a pocket. Holding what you do not know. Now let us imagine that you were a candle."

The man's face became miserable.

"Signor," he implored, "I will tell you a little. The signora above must not be permitted to go from here and have negotiations with the banker Signor Pound. That is as much as has been confided to me."

Stefano made him no answer for just then the part of one eye of his which was not on Niccolo saw a feminine hand on the banister rail and he knew that Nathalie was creeping downstairs.

He knew that Niccolo would turn if he heard her—turn certainly when he heard her start the motor car outside the door; for Stefano was sure that she would try to gain it and speed away.

While she was still on the stairs he calculated the distance between him and Niccolo and considered the probable weight of the chair on which he sat.

As Nathalie ran down the last of the staircase Niccolo started and turned his head to look out in the hall. Stefano sprang from the chair he was on and threw it.

The chair hit Niccolo and he went over. Instantly Stefano was on him, stunned him with a champagne bottle, and took his pistol.

He ran outside and, when he heard another car start from the stables, waited until it was at the gate and turning the way Nathalie had gone. Then he fired two shots such at the two rear tires. Both tires blew out, but the car continued on its course with its rear wheels flat.

He could see, though, as he watched it driven away, that it could never catch up with Nathalie's. Then it stopped a few hundred yards down the road and a second car came out of a grove of evergreens and the men who were in the first car all sprang out and swarmed into the second. When that car had gone Stefano ran to the car that had been abandoned and drove on flat tires to the first telephone available, where he called up Monty Delaine and then Mrs. Pemberton Swayne.

Nathalie gave her car all the gas it would take and still stay on the road when she heard the revolver shots behind her. It was a car designed for speed and she was a fine driver.

It gave her a sense of triumph that she was ahead and that the road was clear. As she knew the country well she began to plan the journey to her aunt's by by-roads instead of main roads when she became convinced that the motor behind her had stopped.

She slowed sufficiently to be able to glance back once, and saw that those who were in pursuit of her were leaving the car they had started in and crowding into a fresh one. Then she sent her car ahead as fast as she dared drive it. She began to be aware that the motor behind her had power be there before her—that it was not, there was a chance that she might reach the crossing before it. If she could put the oncoming train between her and the car behind, she might hope to get out of sight of her pursuers while the train went by and so possibly shake them off.

There were no gates at the crossing for the road she was traveling was little used. She contrived to look behind her again, and saw that the pursuing car was still gaining. Looking ahead she discovered the train approaching in full view.

She made a swift calculation of its speed and her own speed, her nerves entirely steady and her too and was holding the distance between them, even if it was not gaining. And it came to her that she had no driver's license and that if she continued at her present speed along any main highway she would surely be halted or overtaken by a policeman. The road she was on led straight to a main thoroughfare, so at the next turn she swerved into a second country road.

The Chair Hit Niccolo and He Went Over. Instantly Stefano Was Upon Him.

At a slight turn she looked back and saw that the car in the rear was gaining on her. Frantically she stepped on the gas—then suddenly, as the grade of her road dropped, she saw far down it the signal warning of a railroad crossing.

The screaming of a train whistle reached her ears.

Her mind grasped, by the clearness of the whistle, that the train was approaching along the tracks which she was headed toward and that if it was an express it would mind clear, for she had driven high powered cars ever since she was old enough. She decided she had enough advantage to cross ahead of it and did not look at it again as she shot her car across the railroad and beat the train by fifty feet.

The engineer pulled frantically at the cord of his whistle and then at the valve of the train's brakes just as she was in the train's path. The locomotive slowed sufficiently to proceed on past the crossing too laggardly for the car behind to have Nathalie in view by the time the crossing was again clear.

When the expert driver who was at the wheel of it shot forward once more he came, within a half mile, to a fork where the road divided and afforded him no guess of which way the fugitive had gone.

IOWA UNIVERSITY DECLARES 20 ATHLETES ARE INELIGIBLE

FACULTY POLICY HOWEVER UPHELD BY INSTITUTION

SOME SEE IT MEANS A DISTINCT
MOVE TOWARD REINSTATE-MENT IN BIG TEN

UNIVERSITY HAD BEEN OUSTED
FOR ALLEGED PROSELYTING OF ATHLETES

Iowa City, Ia., Dec. 12.—(U.P.)—The University of Iowa, by declaring ineligible some 20 athletes, seems to have made a distinct move toward re-instatement in the western conference. "Ousted" for alleged proselyting of athletes and refusal to allow any outside interests to figure in the control of their athletic staff, the Hawkeyes early today "gave in" regarding the athletes but still continued to uphold their faculty policy.

After a long committee meeting, an announcement came that approximately 20 athletes would be declared ineligible, presumably because the athletes have figured in deals contrary to the Big Ten rules.

According to reports the players ruled ineligible include some of the best of the Hawkeyes' athletic stars. Included in the names mentioned were Oran Pape, Mike Farroh, Seward Lecka, Irving Nelson and Pete Affre. The ruling of athletes ineligible was seen as a compromise with the western conference. When Iowa was "ousted" last week-end the "ouster" was attributed directly to the Hawkeye refusal to disbar any athletes, who supposedly had participated in a so-called "slush fund." Also, the Hawkeyes were said to have refused to allow any outside interference with their athletic directorate.

In the statement today the athletes were barred but there was no mention made of athletic directorate changes.

What result the verdict will have is uncertain. The committee didn't mince any words in saying that it believes Iowa's "athletic sphere is in the western conference."

For that reason it was believed that

McCLARNIN AND GOLDSTEIN FIGHT TOMORROW NIGHT

ARE 2 OF RING'S HARDEST PUNCHING WELTERWEIGHTS

MAY DEVELOP NEXT OPPONENT
FOR CHAMPION JACKIE
FIELDS

McLARNIN HAS WON 50 PER CENT OF HIS FIGHTS BY KNOCKOUTS

BY DIXON STEWART
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Dec. 12.—Two of the hardest punching welterweights in boxing history—Jimmy McLarnin, "baby face" Irishman from Vancouver, B. C., and Ruby Goldstein, New York Hebrew—meet at Madison Square Garden Friday night in a bout which is expected to develop the next opponent for Welterweight Champion Jackie Fields.

The welterweight division always has been noted for its lethal punches. Joe Walcott, the "giant-killer," probably stood out as the heaviest hitter of the 145-pounders, but there were many others including Mysterious Billy Smith, Willie Lewis, Stanley Ketchel, Dixie Kids and the original Jack Dempsey, the "Nonpareil."

Outside of Joe Walcott it is questionable if any could match the punches of Goldstein and McLarnin. The fact that McLarnin has won 50 per cent of his important bouts by knockouts and Goldstein has an even higher percentage bears out this assertion.

Because of the known punching ability of the rival contenders, the fact that both are idols with New York ring fans and the interest attached in matches between Irish and Jewish boxers, the bout is what is known in ring parlance as a "natural." Even the unsatisfactory ending of the Phil Scott-Otto Von Porat bout which soured many fans on boxing has failed to detract from the interest and indications are that the show will attract a $100,000 crowd.

Each of the two fighters will receive 25 per cent of the gate receipts. Joe Walcott, greatest welterweight of all time, will be present—not as an honored guest but as one of the $30 per week roustabouts who clean up the Garden after the bouts.

McLarnin is quoted as a 3 to 1 favorite to win and his supporters are offering even money that he wins by a knockout.

Last evening the Princess Candies still retained their lead on first place in the Handicap League by handing two defeats to the Lions Club.

Jerry Schraeder again showed the boys the way with a big 228, his last game for a 564 total. Five hundred total bowlers for the Lions were Mrs. Block and James H. Alderman. The Lions lost the first game by four pins. The All Stars continue their dash for the top, defeating the Moose all three games. There were only three pins difference in the first game, McKinley was high man in this match with 542, holding up his scratch average. Imgrund was the only other 500 bowler.

NO BASKETBALL UNTIL SCHOOL IS ACCEPTED

CAGERS MUST WAIT UNTIL AC-CEPTANCE STATUS IS ESTAB-LISHED

OPENING GAMES OF B. H. S. MAY BE TRANSFERRED TO TOWNS
INTERESTED

On account of the final adjustment of matters relating to the final acceptance of the building under rules of the general contract, it has been necessary to not permit the use of the new high school gymnasium for basketball purposes until the acceptance status is established and adjusted.

"While the basketball squad is undoubtedly disappointed in not being able to start practice now that the playing season is really on throughout the district, it seems the only sensible course of procedure under the circumstances. It is hoped, however, that the adjustments referred to will be settled without undue delay and that the building will be ready for occupancy within a reasonable length of time," said W. C. Cobb, superintendent of schools, today.

The opening games will probably be transferred by agreement with the towns interested, from Brainerd to Pine River on December 20 and Pequot on December 21.

BIG LEAGUES HOLD A JOINT GATHERING TODAY

BROADCASTING IS A MATTER
FOR EACH INDIVIDUAL CLUB TO DECIDE

NOT LIKELY ANY BIG CHANGE
IN BASEBALL TO BE USED
NEXT YEAR

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

New York, Dec. 12.—The major leagues ended three days of discussion of baseball's problems today with the annual joint meeting of the National and American League at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Most of the problems which have come before the two leagues in their separate sessions Tuesday and Wednesday were expected to be settled at today's joint gathering.

The National League apparently has settled the radio question by deciding that broadcasting is a matter for each individual club to decide.

There is not likely to be any big change in the baseball used in 1930, except the manufacturers probably will follow the National League's recommendation and take the gloss off the ball to save the umpires that trouble.

New developments in the Brooklyn situation, where two rival factions are at war, were expected today. Commissioner K. M. Landis and President John Heydler of the National League unsuccessfully attempted yesterday to bring the warring groups together.

Wilbert Robinson, president and manager of the Brooklyn club whose contract expires January 1, and Frank York, representing the Ebbets interests, are aligned against Judge Steve McKeever and Joseph Gilleadeau in the Brooklyn battle. Each group represents 50 per cent of the club's stock.

As for the American League, President E. S. Barnard said his league was in perfect harmony.

Two former Philadelphia stars—Grover Cleveland Alexander and Wally Schang—are back with the clubs with which they started their major league careers.

Alexander, who broke in 1911 and is now 42, is back with the Phillies in a deal with the St. Louis Cardinals, which sent Outfielder Homer Peel and Pitcher Bob McGrath to St. Louis and Catcher Harry McCurdy, along with Alexander, to Philadelphia.

Schang, who broke in with the Athletics in 1913, and is near 40, has been traded back to the world champions by the St. Louis Browns for Third Baseman Sammy Hale.

George Burns, veteran outfielder and first baseman, who became a major leaguer in 1913 when he joined the Detroit club of the American League and has since played at Cleveland, New York and Philadelphia, was signed as manager of the Mission club of the Pacific Coast League.

The Pittsburgh Pirates released Claude Linton, one-time University of Wyoming athletic star, to the Baltimore International League club in part payment for Al Bohl, Baltimore catcher, who was sent to Pittsburgh last September.

Sport's Heroes of 1929

By HARDIN BURNLEY

Low FONSECA
CLEVELAND
GRABBED THE
A.L. CROWN.

Lefty O'DOUL.

NAT'L LEAGUE
BATTING CHAMP—THE REAL SENSATION OF 1929.

ALMOST by acclamation, Frank "Lefty" O'Doul, of Philadelphia's Phillies, and Lew Fonseca, of the Cleveland Indians, were named the most valuable players in the National and American leagues, respectively, at the close of the 1929 season.

O'Doul dazzled with his consistently tremendous hitting, achieving league leadership finally with a .400 batting average. "Lefty" was also a most competent outfielder—his all-round play certainly earning that "most valuable player" distinction.

O'Doul's achievement is dramatically striking, in that he was a cast-off—a failure with the Yankees, Red Sox, Cubs and Giants. "Lefty" entered the big leagues as a pitcher. John McGraw was patient but, after careful study, baseball's most famous master mind decided that "Lefty" was "just another player." And so O'Doul soon found himself struggling for recognition with the lowly Phillies.

Colossal courage, a fixed and flaming will to show McGraw he was wrong, and heretofore undiscovered batting power were O'Doul's chief assets when exiled to Philadelphia. Striking his stride early in the season, "Lefty" became the most talked-of new star in baseball before midsummer. And he maintained that remarkable pace right through the final game.

Fonseca was also a sensation throughout the season—a fielding marvel at first base and a consistently heavy hitter. He, too, smarted over a cast-off past that in 1926 sent him to the minors.

Picked up by Cleveland as a utility player, Fonseca got a regular assignment when a hold-out situation developed. He led the league with 369, five points above the celebrated Al Simmons.

The emphatically great all-season performances of both O'Doul and Fonseca, erstwhile cast-offs, make them quite definitely baseball's big stars of 1929.

ACCOUSTICS OF THE NEW PARAMOUNT

Tests Made Indicate Theatre Acoustics
Are Perfect and Satisfying

It is a ticklish moment for the architect when, after his theatre has been completed, he tests the acoustics. He may have created an attractive monument to his profession, expended a huge amount of money in doing it—but sometimes he doesn't know until after he has finished it whether the acoustics are all right.

But that trying period is over at the Paramount theatre. The acoustics have been tested and found perfect. The slightest sound made on the stage is carried to the furthestmost corner of the auditorium without the slightest distortion. There is no echo when the sound comes forth in exactly the right volume.

The acoustics will permit renditions from the talking, singing screen that might be hampered if the sound-carrying qualities of the walls were less perfect. There are no "dead" spots. Each note and sound that comes from the golden-voiced screen in Brainerd's new show house will reach the ear of the listener at the same time.

KANE AND HIS BOYS TO PLAY FOR HOP

Popular Orchestra Turns Down
Mexico Contract, Plays Here
Saturday Evening

Turning down a contract to play in Mexico that they might play in their home state, Minnesota, this winter, Robert Kane, manager of the U. C. T. auditorium announced today that Jack Kane and his orchestra will play at the auditorium Saturday evening, December 14.

The orchestra won the approval of Brainerd and county dancers as well as tourists by playing at several popular dances the past summer at Luna Park.

Small, but Important

The nickname "Diamond State" is given to Delaware because of its small size and great importance.

Greetings Scouts and Scouters

The Central Minnesota Council and Scout Executives wish to extend the best wishes of the season to all Scouts and Scouters throughout the Area.

Scouting, "The Challenge of Adventure." Whether it be land Scouting, Sea Scouting, or Scout leadership, is a challenge to man and boy. The boy seeks the adventure of the outdoors and the many things found there. He seeks the adventure of the trail, the thrills of the flicker of the camp fire and he grows in "stature and wisdom" with the leadership of some good Scout.

At this Christmas time every Scout Troop should dedicate a meeting to a review and story of the one who was the greatest Scout of all time, remembering that it was He who came into this world at Christmas time and did the greatest "Good Turn" for all of us, that any one could do. For this reason remember "A Scout is Reverent" and with such a thought in mind may we all try to make some one happy this Christmas time and by so doing live the life of a true Scout.

Won't You Be Our Scoutmaster
Somewhere in this Area is a troop without a leader. There always is, unfortunately. A group of boys, ranging to go, full of pep, regular fellows, waiting for some regular he-man about 25 years or over to act as leader.

Frankly, wouldn't you like to lead these boys? It's a job to challenge any man. A job so full of rich returns for effort expended, that the busiest cannot afford to overlook its possibilities.

Can you pass up this opportunity? The big chance of a lifetime to teach growing boys all the wonderful things you learned as a boy and those things you know as a man. A group of boys want you and are seeking you to be their Scoutmaster.

What is your answer?
Plus or Minus

Will your troop be registered by December 31? Will you have an increase or decrease in Scouts? Will you have accomplished your quota in advancement? All these things should make any troop leader ponder.

Central Minnesota Council has had the enviable record, for the past two years, of not having any lapsed troops at the end of the year. To do this every Scoutmaster has played the game hard enough to put it over and keep the record. Are we going to do it this year? Several troops are behind in registration and we hope they will endeavor to team up on the job and put Central Minnesota over with colors flying. Troops behind at this date are:

Troop 1, St. Cloud; Troop 6, St. Cloud; Troop 7, Foley; Troop 27, Princeton; Troop 49, Staples; Troop 53, Hill City.

December Registrations

All Troops whose registration expires Dec. 31 have been mailed blanks. We hope they will endeavor to have them completed and in Scout Headquarters before the Christmas holidays. They are as follows:

Troop 10, St. Cloud; Troop 18, Sauk Center; Troop 22, Crosby; Troop 24, Deerwood; Troop 25, Sauk Center; Troop 40, St. Cloud.

Executive at Headquarters

The Scout Executive has been travelling around the Area pretty steadily during October and November and finds the troops in the surrounding towns in tip-top condition. It has been a fine fall to work out in the country. However, now comes the month of finals (just like school you know). There are final reports of the year's work to be completed, charts to make and annual meeting to arrange and many other things to clear up the year's work.

We hope that the troops in the Area will not feel slighted if the staff spends most of the month at Headquarters to complete this work.

All local Scoutleaders are urged to call at Headquarters and use it as a service station to help them plan their troop programs for 1930, to bring in their reports and to ask for any assistance you may need. So after Dec. 12 the no outside work for the Executive will be scheduled as it will take all the time to complete the year's end work and to take care of local conditions caused by holiday season. Let us all help to make a fine finish to 1929.

Do Not Forget Scouts

Do you remember how your Scoutmaster has given his time to you? Have you forgotten the times he has gone on hikes, or lugged you across country in his car? Do you remember the times he visited you at Camp and even helped you get there?

He is a fine fellow, your Scoutmaster. He is making Scouting possible for you, he is "Loyal" to you, "Cheerful" some times when its hard to be cheerful, "Helpful" when you fellows need help. So Scouts when you are thinking of all the things old Santa Claus is going to do for you, remember that "Good Turn" of the Scouts, remember your Scoutmaster with some cheerful, happy, seasonal greeting or other suitable remembrance, it will more than make him happy. Go into a "huddle" right now and see just what can be done to show your appreciation.

Scouts Some Busy

The Scouts are certainly a busy bunch of fellows these days. The office is always being called for jobs. Whenever we know of them we send a boy out to get it. Scouts are busy delivering Telephone Books, and will no doubt have the job completed by the end of the week.

They distributed all the posters for the Christmas seal campaign. Scouts will act as Guard of Honor for Santa Claus and set the flares for the procession on Saturday evening.

Scouts are busy in schools plays, church work, good turns for Christmas and many other things that go into the doings of the month of December. If you want "Something" done ask a Scout to do it.

Send in a Report

Every Troop should send in a report of their year's work. A short questionnaire will be sent to you in a few days to summarize your year's work. Will you please send it in at once, so that we may give your troop all the credit it deserves on the Troop Rating Plan for the past year?

December Slogans

Will your Troop be Plus or Minus? Send your registration over the top. Will every boy in your troop be in Scouting next year?

A new Scout for every boy who has left the Troop.

Start the New Year right with a full Troop.

Every 12-year-old a Scout. Enroll all the 12 year olds.

How will our troop stand on Troop Rating.

A Sea Scout Patrol will help you with your 15 year old boys.

How about the farm boys, they make good Scouts.

Will your troop be first over the top?

Fine Work

Several troops have turned in records for November and they are all to be complimented for promptness. Four of these troops have outstanding records for the month. These are Paynesville Troop 14, Holdingford Troop 17, Ironton Troop 23, Monticello Troop 30. All Troops throughout the area are at present doing a pretty good job of Scouting. Success to all of you.

New Leaders

Three new Scoutmasters and one Assistant Scoutmaster have been commissioned during the past week.

R. A. Tnaquist, Troop 64, Wadena.

O. J. Richman, Troop 14, Paynesville.

L. W. Fish, Troop 43, Brainerd.

A. C. Abrahamson, Troop 43, Brainerd.

They are welcomed by all the Scouters and Scouts in the Area and may they have the best of success. We are all glad to see you among our Scouters of this Area.

New Troop Projects

Several communities are planning new Troops and some of these should be under charter before the end of the month.

Santiago is organizing a complete farm boy troop. There are about 11 boys. The committee is almost completed. Former Scout James Larson S. P. L. of Troop 12 in 1927 will be Scoutmaster.

Sebek, Minn., is also organizing a troop and it will soon be chartered.

Plans are also under way for new troops at St. Joseph, Clearwater, and Pan Town. It is also planned to reorganize Troop 4 of St. Cloud in the near future.

Area Headquarters

Central Minnesota Scout Headquarters are located in Stearns county court house in St. Cloud. Any boy wanting to be a Scout or interested in Scouting should call there. It is an interesting place for boys. Merry Christmas! Are you a Scout?

Lucky Find

The second largest diamond ever found in Brazil, weighing 111 carats and said to be worth $500,000, was picked up by a prospector in the state of Minas Geraes.

LOCALS MEET WITH DEFEAT IN FIRST BASKETBALL GAME OF SEASON

Russell's Globe Trotters went down to defeat at the hands of the Crosby Range team at Crosby last evening in the locals' first game of the season by the score of 33 to 24.

The team played without the services of Marshall and O. Heikkinen who were unable to make the trip. This loss handicapped the Brainerd team.

Woock, Crosby coach, sank five baskets and two free throws to take the scoring honors. Chupich found the loop for ten points while Pomeroy and Butorac did some effective guard duty, forcing Russell's men to shoot from long range.

The Back Door looks a little neglected, doesn't it? For one thing, the screening is rusted and fallen away in spots. Doesn't keep the flies out. And the delivery boys and the ice man have soiled the woodwork. It does look messy. It isn't much of a job to put in new netting and to paint the main door and the frame of the other. Let's get busy. What do you say?

TELL THE WORLD IF YOU KNOW ANYTHING WRONG IN ATHLETICS

Chicago, Dec. 12.—(U.P.)—The Western conference, in a statement issued by Major John L. Griffith, its athletic commissioner, has requested that anyone who "knows anything wrong about its athletics present proof of knowledge."

Apparently exasperated by various rumors regarding conference schools which followed the "ousting" of Iowa, Griffith has issued a "cordial" invitation to "everyone who is willing to help the conference to live up to its rules to report the names of any individuals, be they connected with a conference institution or not, who in any way have been responsible for subsidizing a conference athlete."

FISH IMPERILLED IN LOW LEVEL LAKES

Thousands May Die if Ice Freezes to Bottom of Ponds Near Whitefish

DEPARTMENT AID WANTED

Suggestion Made by J. F. Cibuzar That Holes be Cut in Ice to Allow Air In

Because of the low water levels in several miniature lakes near the Whitefish chain, thousands of fish will be imperilled this winter, J. F. Cibuzar reported to the Chamber of Commerce last evening.

The State Game and Fish Department will be appealed to for protection to the fish species. The suggestion will be made to the department officials that holes be cut in the ice to permit air to enter the shallow lakes. In the event that ice freezes this ponds to the bottom the fish will perish.

The situation was brought on by low water levels cutting off the miniature lakes from the Whitefish chain. The request will also be made to the department to establish higher levels in future years to protect the fish.
